(57) ABSTRACT

A patient transport vehicle including lower chassis mounted on wheels in the bed supported by a column mounted on the lower chassis. A lift cart is supported by towers mounted on the lower chassis with a section configured to rise out from the top of each tower. A lift cart actuator is utilized to raise and lower the inner section of each tower thereby raising and lowering the lift cart. A swing mechanism is mounted on the lift cart with a swing actuator to control its movement. Two or more hangers are attached swing mechanism and utilized to support a patient wrapped in a patient support pad.
